

OUR HEALTH & SAFETY GUIDELINES

In an effort to protect our clients, crew and staff from the spread of COVID and variants, Elk Studio has established new policies and practices. We're committed to providing the highest level of service without compromising your health and safety.

Elk Studios is in full adherence of the Key to NYC regulations. In addition to our own protocols that have been developed from guidelines by the CDC, AICP, APA, and WHO, and wherever possible we exceed safety measures and recommendations. We will always continue to monitor and adapt to the current situation.

Before entering Elk, we ask that producers / production managers provide proof of vaccinations for all attendees and take their own precautions in addition to ours by checking the temperatures of everyone who is going to be on set. We can provide a contact less thermometer for easy temperature checks if desired.

HERE IS HOW WE ARE MAKING YOUR SHOOTS SAFER AT ELK

Elk is a private studio with the unique ability to have a true cross ventilation breeze you can feel throughout the studio with our large garage door and rear exit. The studio cyclorama is steps away from our garage door, which provides easy outdoor access.

We ask that everyone—staff, clients, and guests—Wear a face mask or face covering at all times while in the studio. We can provide them if you do not have one.

Please observe social distancing guidelines when possible.

All surfaces, common areas, and equipment are professionally cleaned and sanitized before and after each session.

Auto-dispensing Aesop® hand sanitizer stations are placed throughout the studio.

Molekule air purifiers (PECO Technology) are installed throughout the studio and bathroom.

To maximize airflow Elk has a filtered independent HVAC system plus an Industrial extractor fan at the opposite end of the studio to pull additional air through the space.

Additional PPE is available if needed.

We have entered a new era in which compassion, adaptability and honesty are at the forefront of the photo and video industry. All of us at Elk are committed to ensuring the health, safety and wellbeing of all our clients and each other, while enabling a clean, safe, and creative space in which to thrive.
